MAY YOU HAVE

Enough happiness to keep you sweet,
Enough trials to keep you strong,
Enough sorrow to keep you human,
Enough hope to keep you happy;
Enough failure to keep you humble;
Enough success to keep you eager,
Enough friends to give you comfort,
Enough wealth to meet your needs;
Enough enthusiasm to look forward,
Enough faith to banish depression,
Enough determination to make each day
better than yesterday.

Lise Christianson
1957-1980

IN LOVING MEMORY
of a most beloved friend, who was a very dedicated, compassionate woman and nurse. Lise was like sunshine in the morning which brightened up your day; never once putting herself before others. This always gave one a special warm feeling. She chose to express herself in the most beautiful way imaginable — by tending the sick. Even though her dreams were tossed and blown away, her memory still lives on in ech and everyone dear to her. As each nurse continues to walk with hope in her heart, there will always be that special warm and caring feeling that is part of nursing; that warm feeling portrayed by Lise will always be felt by everyone.

CYTOTECHNOLOGY

Cytotechnology is the study of cells at a medical level, more specifically, evaluating cells for the diagnosis of cancer. The field is best known for the "Pap Test" which is the microscopic evaluation of cells from the uterus of the female genital tract. However, cells from any surface within the body can be evaluated for cancer. The main purpose of the field is to find cancer cells at an early, curable stage.

MEDICAL TECHNOLOGY

The role of the medical technologist as an allied health professional is to develop laboratory data used in the detection, diagnosis, and treatment of many diseases. Multiple complex laboratory analyses are performed on blood and other body fluids using precision instruments such as microscopes, autoanalyzers, radio-isotope detectors and various types of photometers. The med. tech. has in depth knowledge in the 4 major areas of the clinical laboratory-hematology, microbiology, clinical chemistry and immunohematology. In accepting the responsibilities of this profession, the med. tech. must recognize the interdependency of the analytical tests performed in each area and must be able to make interpretive judgments that influence the diagnosis and/or treatment of patients.

TEXTBOOK OF SURGERY

SENIOR

THE OATH OF HIPPOCRATES

I do solemnly swear by whatever I hold most sacred, that I will be loyal to the profession of medicine and will be just and generous to its members and will teach those who follow after me in this profession.

That I will lead my life and practice my art in uprightness and honor.

That into whatever home I shall enter it shall be for the good of the sick and of the well and to the utmost of my power I will hold myself aloof from wrong and from corruption and from tempting others to vice.

That I will exercise my art solely for the cure of my patients and for the prevention of disease. I will give no drug or perform no operation for a criminal purpose, and will never recommend such a thing.

That whatever I shall see or hear that concerns the lives of my patients which is not fitting to be spoken, I will keep forever secret.

These things I do promise and in proportion to the degree that I am faithful to this oath, may happiness and good repute be ever mine, and may the opposite befall me if I am false to my work.

Medicine is a family affair now at LSU

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Laura McIntire, her brother, Tim, and her sister, Brighid, are all freshmen at the Louisiana State University medical school.

"This is the first time this has happened in the school's 49-year-history, and I dare say it's unique to the whole country," an LSU spokesman said.

How did Laura, 20, Brighid, 21, and Tim, 23, manage to accomplish such a feat? Well, it wasn't planned, they say. It just happened.

It worked out this way Tim finished college with a bachelor's degree in zoology in four years but he was not accepted by the medical school the first time he applied In the meantime, Brighid earned a bachelor's degree in zoology in four years, and was accepted by the LSU medical school at the same time as her older brother. Laura acquired her zoology degree in three years and was accepted by the school.

All three said they have considered becoming physicians since they were children Their father, Leon McIntire, a graduate of the LSU medical school is a radiologist

PEP ADIOS

This signals the grand finale of the PEP group. We were a close-knit group who had some unforgettable times; trips through the foramen magnum with Disco Doug; Uncle Jerry's breakfast club, Parkway Tavern post-test smashes, football-in-the-eye at lunch, masquerade on Valentine's Day, Blue Hawaii's, The Phantom, Murphy's Hole and "Club!", a perfect record in football and basketball, Schlib, and the conversion of Dr. Dollar into Jim catalyzed by teacher-student transferase. (and Nutty Buddy's). And lest we forget . . .

"Tighten up, don't screw it up!"
"Cenac, shut up!"
"Robert Taylor Drinks Cold Barq's"
"Cruel shoes"
". . . walves and weins . . ."
"Old friends and new friends"

We studied hard and partied harder, and more often than not, our teachers were in the middle of it. It was fun!

RANDOM THOUGHTS OF A FRESHMAN

ANATOMY: What the hell am I doing sticking a pin in someone's brain?
COPYING OLD TESTS: I thought I was finished with this kind of stuff in college.
BIOCHEMISTRY: Here I sit, a 22-year-old at the height of my sexual potency, in a stuffy classroom (open the damn windows!) listening to drivel about something abbreviated PPP which I will never actually see or ever again contemplate.

To remain sane in Med School, one must have the utmost confidence that the inexplicable mass of gibberish being presented will at some time in the future be comprehended (perhaps).
HISTOLOGY: Should I take out my microscope? Just look at demo's? Skip lab altogether? Skip lecture?

Will we get a chance to play cards in the student lounge in the next three years like they do?
ICM: No random (or organized) thoughts are available on ICM.
WED. NITE: Should I go to Meliuś?
THURS. MORN: Why in the HELL did I go to Meliuś?
PHYSIOLOGY: Why would a dog volunteer for this? Was Dr. Sluggo lying?
NEURO: Where am I? MLF? ARNDLPZT@#3? The great parties, Joe's on Friday afternoons, new friends, the absolute refusal to study during M.A.S.H. every nite — these are the things that keep your dog safe from attack. In retrospect, it wasn't so bad. As a matter of fact, there was a lot of fun!

SPOOLEY

And remember . . . "It all comes together at the end."

Ernie Graves, overall editor of The Murmur.

The yearbook is finally finished. It was a big responsibility, one that weighed heavily on me at times. It seems like no matter how many people I had working for me, I ended up doing most of the work myself. This is not to imply that I didn't have a good staff. Many people gave unselfishly of their time and talents, and to those people (especially Chris Erickson — he knows why) I am very grateful.

There were times, though, when I wondered why I had gotten involved. There was the frustration of late sections, lost negatives, incorrect layouts that kept pushing our deadlines back by weeks at a time. Setbacks and obstacles stopped progress with depressing regularity, and this book is in your hands about three months later than I had originally planned.

On the positive side, I think that what we have put together is the best Murmur that LSUMC has ever had. We used more color than ever before, about twice as much. The sections representing the five different schools are better organized and more uniformly designed than in the past. I think we have published a Murmur that works well as a whole, rather than five smaller units that happen to share the same cover.

In case you haven't realized it yet, these remarks consist of the same old cliches that every Murmur editor always says. I'm just repeating history, for two reasons:

1) Tradition. I'm a conformist at heart.

2) It's the damn truth. It is a tough job, and an editor deserves a little self-indulgence when it's over and done.

The only really important thing I can say is that I hope you enjoy this book. If it entertains you and stirs your memory a little, then I'll be satisfied.

Finally, I would like to wish the best of luck to Chris Erickson and Paul Gulotta, co-editors of the 1981 Murmur. May God help them both; no one else will.

Ernie Graves

G. Gomes

Whose woods these are I think I know.
His house is in the village though;
He will not see me stopping here
To watch his woods fill up with snow.

My little horse must think it queer
To stop without a farmhouse near
Between the woods and frozen lake
The darkest evening of the year.

He gives his harness bells a shake
To ask if there is some mistake.
The only other sound's the sweep
Of easy wind and downy flake.

The woods are lovely, dark and deep,
But I have promises to keep,
And miles to go before I sleep,
And miles to go before I sleep.
